

Teamwork Reflection (IDS 706)

Anastasiia Saenko

MIDS

Introduction

As someone who has a little bit of background with code, I was interested in multiple parts of the project and worked on the application code, Dev Ops, documentation and server setup for our IDS706-final-project. The project was very interesting and even though it was difficult sometimes, I learned a lot from it. Working in my team was the best part of the project.

Peer Evaluation

1. Antara Bhide:

- Positive Attributes:
 - Focus: She is focused.
 - Communication skills : She was amazing at communicating her ideas and thoughts
 - Detail oriented: Her tendency to pay close attention to details is commendable.
- Areas for Improvement:
 - Coding skills: She can focus more on improving her coding.
 - Managing tasks and time: She should work on her time management
 - Regular updates: She might benefit from keeping her teammates more updated about changes she makes to the code.

2. Zhanylai Turatkhan Kyzy:

- Positive Attributes:
 - Very nice to talk to : Very friendly and helpful during the project
 - Easy to work with : Very easy to work and communicate with.
 - Research : She is good at researching new ways to do something
- Areas for Improvement:

- Technical concepts: Improving her technical skills and understanding of technical concepts
- Presentation : She can improve her presentation skills
- Becoming Organised : She can become more organized in her approach to projects

3. Gunel:

- Positive Attributes:
 - Bright: She is really fast with her work and is very bright
 - Creativity: She has a lot of ideas and knows how to make them work
 - Patience: She is very patient in her tasks
- Areas for Improvement:
 - Focus : She can improve her focus while working on something
 - Regular Communication: She can communicate a little more frequently
 - Time Management: She can improve how she manages her time and tasks

Feedback Session Outcome : Our feedback session was very enjoyable. We communicated our experience with each other. Everyone took their respective areas for improvement in an extremely mature manner. It was a learning experience for us all since we were able to see ourselves from a co-worker's eyes. I think it has benefitted me a lot and I can now work on traits that I did not realize I needed to work on.

This concludes our IDS706 final project. I (Anastasiia) would like to extend my gratitude to my three teammates, Antara, Zhanylai and Gunel for having been so wonderful to work with. I wish them all the best.